Dear Parent/Carer

Re: Turtle Class - Maternity Leave Update

As you may already be aware, we are delighted to formally share the news that Mrs Farmer-Wright is expecting a baby and will soon be starting her maternity leave.

Mrs Farmer-Wright, one of the two class teachers for Turtle Class, is currently planning to begin her maternity leave with her last working day being Wednesday 25th February, dependent on the baby's arrival.

We are pleased to inform you that Mrs Bramley has been appointed as her maternity cover and is due to join us from Monday 4th April. In the interim period, the class will be taught by experienced supply staff, with planning provided by Mrs Pettifer-Saunders to ensure continuity and consistency for the pupils.

We would like to extend our warmest wishes to Mrs Farmer-Wright as she prepares for this exciting next chapter and would also like to thank Mrs Pettifer-Saunders for her support and dedication in ensuring the smooth running of the class during this time.

Regards

Claire Pateman
